Licensure Test Scores for Individuals Completing the Adolescent Young Adult Secondary Social Studies Program at University of Toledo

(Data Source: Educational Testing Service (ETS)/United States Department of Education)

Description of Data: In addition to requiring all teacher candidates to pass the Praxis ® licensure exam at the state determined cut score, for some licensure programs, Ohio requires that teacher candidates pass additional examinations at the established cut scores to be recommended for licensure and receive endorsements. The 2012 Report for Teacher Licensure Test Scores for the 2010-2011 year is based on Title II data and therefore reflects only initial licenses.

Adolescent Young Adult Secondary Social Studies Excellence and Innovation Initiatives at University of Toledo

Description of Data: This section provides each program the opportunity to share information on a maximum of three initiatives geared to increase excellence and support innovation in the preparation of Ohio educators. (Data Source: University of Toledo)

Initiative #1: UT@TPS

Purpose: Provide GED & college classes in an affordablecommunity-basedfamily-friendly environment

Goal: Positively affecting K-12 students academic and social success by (a) supporting their parents and other influential elders

Number of Participants: 153

Strategy: Classes are taught in a Toledo Public school by full time UT instructors and Penta Career Center instructorsusing curricula that are consistent with on-campus classes. Course schedule follows TPS calendar and falls within the TPS school day. Free college math and literacy classes increase success rates for college students; college students participate in community service in K-8 classrooms and other settings; off-campus location makes tuition affordable with Pell grant only - no loans.

Demonstration of Impact: College student retention and success rate is 78%compared to 10.8% for comparable population in classes on UT campus. GED student attendance is higher than averagewith data on tests just becoming available. Data on effect of program on K-8 students will be collected beginning Spring 2013.

External Recognition: : Toledo Community Foundation Grant; articles in Toledo Blade and Toledois Sojourners Truth newspapers.

Initiative #2: Padua Possibilities Alternative-to-Suspension

Purpose: Provide a positive educational experience - students who would otherwise be suspended & unsupervised

Goal: Alternative-to-suspension experience that fosters K-5 students improved academicsocialand emotional abilities to thrive in regular school setting

Number of Participants: 80

Strategy: The program takes place in the Padua Center and involved students from 6 schools. It has four program components. Educational: assisting the students with school work provided by teachersincluding remedial work in reading and mathand state test preparation. Coaching: involving a social work intern to help make changes in behavior patterns including anger management. Peace Education: helping students irecognize their powerkeep their powerand use their power for good. Service: community voluntarism.

Demonstration of Impact: The schools reported lower rates of recidivism for suspension of participating students.

External Recognition: Grants from Toledo Community Foundation Grant and other foundations; Articles in Toledo Blade and Toledois Sojourners Truth newspapers

Pre-Service Teacher Survey Results

Description of Data: To gather information on student satisfaction with the quality of preparation provided by their teacher education programs, the Ohio Board of Regents and a committee of representatives from Ohio institutions of higher education collaborated to develop a survey of Ohio's Pre-Service Teachers as a special research project. Questions on the survey are aligned with the Ohio Standards for the Teaching Profession (OSTP), Ohio licensure requirements, and elements of national accreditation. The Ohio Board of Regents distributed the online survey to candidates completing their student teaching experiences in Fall 2012. The results below reflect the program average (mean) score for each question, as well as the state average for each question. A total of 1,917 respondents completed the survey statewide for a response rate of 76 percent. (Data Source: Ohio Board of Regents)
