Description of Data:

For the period reflected on this report, Ohio required that teacher candidates pass Praxis II® examinations by scoring at or above the state's established required score to be recommended for licensure and receive endorsements in specific fields. The reporting for Teacher Licensure Test Scores is based on Federal Title II data and therefore reflects only initial licensure for 2011-2012. Data are not provided for additional licenses that an educator earns after her/his initial license. Individual candidates often take more than one licensure examination; the number of licensure program completers reported reflects the unduplicated number of individuals taking examinations. For institutions with fewer than 10 linked teachers or principals, only the N is reported.

Value-Added Data for Individuals Completing Educator Preparation Programs at Wittenberg University
Reporting period for 9/1/2012 through 8/31/2013

Description of Data:

Ohio's value-added data system provides educators a more complete picture of student growth. As a vital component of Ohio's accountability system, districts and educators have access to an extensive array of diagnostic data through the Education Value-Added Assessment System (EVAAS). From a state perspective, value-added data provide insights into student performance. For example, schools that do not appear to be achieving at high levels as traditionally measured can demonstrate through value-added data that many of their students are achieving significant progress. It is important to recognize these gains, as schools work to support students who have chronically struggled to perform. Student growth measures also provide students and parents with evidence of the impact of their efforts.

Limitations of the Value-Added Data:

1. The information in the report is for those individuals receiving their licenses with effective years of, 2009, 2010, 2011, and 2012.
2. The value-added data in this report are those reported by Ohio's Education Value-Added Assessment System (EVAAS) based on reading and mathematics achievement tests in grades 4-8.
3. The number of teachers and principals (N) with associated value-added data remains small at this point. For institutions with fewer than 10 linked teachers or principals with value-added data, only the N is reported.

Teacher Pre-Service Survey Results

Description of Data:

To gather information on student satisfaction with the quality of preparation provided by their educator preparation programs, the Ohio Board of Regents and a committee of representatives from Ohio institutions of higher education collaborated to develop a survey of Ohio's Pre-Service Teachers as a special research project. Questions on the survey are aligned with the Ohio Standards for the Teaching Profession (OSTP), Ohio licensure requirements, and elements of national accreditation. The Ohio Board of Regents distributed the online survey to candidates completing their student teaching experiences and collected the data for the Reporting period for 9/1/2012 through 8/31/2013. A total of 3570 respondents completed the survey statewide for a response rate of 81 percent.

National Accreditation

(Data Source: Ohio Board of Regents)

Description of Data:

Educator preparation programs (EPPs) reported academic measures for students completing their teacher and principal preparation programs. Academic measures reported include assessment results for the ACT®, SAT®, Praxis I®, GRE®, and MAT®, as well as high school, undergraduate, graduate, transfer grade point average, and program admission (GPA). The Ohio Board of Regents calculated statewide weighted mean values based on the EPP-reported data. For institutions with fewer than 10 linked teachers or principals, only the N is reported. Academic measures which do not apply to a specific unit or program are represented by NA.

Teacher Licensure Programs

Initiative:	Local and Global Connections
Purpose:	Enrich education and the college experience through local and global experiences.
Goal:	Provide opportunities for students to be involved in the local community and to study-abroad.
Number of Participants:	8
Strategy:	Wittenberg extended student activities and engagement beyond campus. Graduation requirements included 27 hours of community service and 3 hours of reflection. All education courses had field experience components. The field experience ranged from observation early in the program to student teaching as a capstone experience. Wittenberg encouraged students to investigate and take advantage of study abroad opportunities. The opportunities ranged from experiences lasting a few weeks to a full semester. Eight education department students participated in study abroad programs during the 2012-13 academic year (six students were part of the full spring semester Wittenberg in Wittenberg program -- located in Lutherstadt Wittenberg, Germany).
Demonstration of Impact:	Students connected with the greater Springfield community through community service requirements. Eight education students participated in study abroad activities during the 2012-13 academic year. They brought a global perspective to course discussions.
External Recognition:	Approximately 45 partner sites provided service opportunities for students. Partnerships provided opportunity to recognize resources within the community as well as resources at Wittenberg.
Programs:
Initiative:	Undergraduate Research Forums
Purpose:	The purpose is to showcase and celebrate student research and encourage other students to participate in research projects.
Goal:	Demonstrate a commitment to academic excellence and scholarly pursuits
Number of Participants:	24
Strategy:	Wittenberg highlighted undergraduate research with a campus-wide event, research forums and conference presentations. Fourteen undergraduates in the education department participated in a campus-wide Celebration of Learning held April 12, 2013. The undergraduates presented findings through poster sessions, presentations and performances. In addition to the Celebration of Learning, the Education Department hosted a Research Forum each semester. The forum brought together graduate students presenting master's level theses alongside undergraduate students presenting projects that resulted from their involvement in the Departmental Honors Program in Education, action research projects completed in undergraduate literacy methods and urban studies

Demonstration of Impact:	The Celebration of Learning hosted student-led panel sessions, posters, presentations and performances from April 10-13. Students, faculty, and local educators attended forums that generated interest in research. Students presented at statewide conferences on the research projects completed in undergraduate literacy methods and urban studies coursework.
External Recognition:	Community members as well as local school personnel attend the events.
Programs:
Initiative:	Arts Integration
Purpose:	Provide learning opportunities in the area of arts integration
Goal:	Arts integration throughout the early childhood and middle childhood curriculum
Number of Participants:	43
Strategy:	Wittenberg's Education Department is a member of the Arts Alive Partnership (a long-standing collaboration with the local performing arts center and area schools) affiliated with the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, DC. The benefits of the partnership include free high quality professional development workshops for area teachers and college students, free tickets for college students to attend School Day Performances at the performing arts center, access to the Arts Alive Collection of 256 items (books, CD's, etc.) available at the Wittenberg Library.
Demonstration of Impact:	Wittenberg students influence thousands of area students through service-learning projects creating teacher guides for School Day Performances at the performing arts center and visitor guides for the local art museum.
External Recognition:	The Partners in Education program is nationally recognized.
Programs:	The Arts Alive Partnership created the Clark Community Cultural Consortium to connect area youth providers to area schools through the academic standards, providing school speakers, supplies and/or field trip sites.
