NOTE: State community colleges do not have statutory authority to seek local tax levies to supplement state support and student tuition, and therefore do not have a surcharge for out-of-district students.

1. Columbus State modified its fee structure in fall term 2001. In the past, students taking 12-18 hours were charged a flat full-time fee. As of fall term 2001, students taking 15-18 credit hours are charged a flat full-time fee. This modification overstates the change in Columbus State's full-time tuition rate.

2. Rio Grande Community College switched from a quarter calendar to a semester calendar in fall term 2001. The community college does not accept out-of-state students. Out-of-state students may be admitted to the University of Rio Grande, a private institution with which the community college is affiliated.
