CAMPUS MISSIONS OF OHIO'S STATE-SUPPORTED COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

Full information on educational outcomes at the institutional level is available in the electronic versions of this report, which are published on CD-ROM or are available on the Ohio Board of Regents website at www.regents.state.oh.us/perfrpt. Interpretation of these institutional measures requires some background knowledge of the missions of the institutions and the characteristics of the students that they serve. This section presents the mission statements for the public colleges and universities in Ohio. The following section presents basic data on institutional enrollment and student characteristics.

MISSION STATEMENT - COMMUNITY COLLEGES, STATE COMMUNITY COLLEGES, AND TECHNICAL COLLEGES

Community colleges are comprehensive two-year institutions offering both technical and transfer programs supported in part by a local property tax levy as well as by state subsidy and tuition and fees. The Community colleges include: Cuyahoga Community College; Jefferson Community College; Lakeland Community College; Lorain County Community College; Rio Grande Community College; and Sinclair Community College.

State community colleges are comprehensive two-year institutions offering both technical and transfer programs supported primarily by state subsidy and tuition and fees. The state community colleges include: Cincinnati State Technical & Community College; Clark State Community College; Columbus State Community College; Edison State Community College; Northwest State Community College; Owens State Community College; Southern State Community College; Terra State Community College; and Washington State Community College.

Technical colleges are comprehensive two-year institutions offering only technical programs but whose core curriculum is nonetheless transferable to a four-year institution. Technical colleges are supported primarily by state subsidy and tuition and fees. The technical colleges include: Belmont Technical College; Central Ohio Technical College; Hocking Technical College; James A. Rhodes State College; Marion Technical College; Muskingum Area Technical College; North Central State College; and Stark State College of Technology.

The Ohio Association of Community Colleges has prepared an extract from Ohio law that identifies the specific missions of all the community colleges, state community colleges, and technical colleges. All community colleges, state community colleges, and technical colleges must meet the nine educational service standards established in Section 3333.20 of the Ohio Revised Code. These institutions must offer or demonstrate at least the following:

- 1) An appropriate range of career or technical programs designed to prepare individuals for employment in specific careers at the technical or paraprofessional level;
- 2) Commitment to an effective array of developmental education services providing opportunities for academic skill enhancement;
- 3) Partnerships with industry, business, government, and labor for the retraining of the workforce and the economic development of the community;
- 4) Noncredit continuing education opportunities;
- 5) College transfer programs or the initial two years of a baccalaureate degree for students planning to transfer to institutions offering baccalaureate programs;
- 6) Linkages with high schools to ensure that graduates are adequately prepared for post-secondary instruction;
- 7) Student access provided according to a convenient schedule and program quality provided at an affordable price;
- 8) That student fees charged by any institution are as low as possible, especially if the institution is being supported by a local tax levy; and
- 9) A high level of community involvement in the decision-making process in such critical areas as course delivery, range of services, fees and budgets, and administrative personnel.

One of these two-year institutions, Rio Grande Community College, provided the following detailed mission statement:

RIO GRANDE COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Rio Grande Community College is set on the campus of the University of Rio Grande serving Gallia, Jackson, Meigs, and Vinton Counties. The Community College has a unique relationship with the University that provides the citizens of rural Appalachian Ohio with affordable opportunities to obtain both a traditional community college education or continue on to obtain a baccalaureate and/or masters degree. The institution draws primarily traditional students as freshmen, most of who attend full-time, with a high percentage who plan to earn their baccalaureate on the URG/RGCC campus.

Many community college students continue to upper level university courses without getting associate degrees. Due to the unique partnership with the independent University of Rio Grande, information related to faculty and space usage is not reported to the state.

The rural, four-county region that URG/RGCC serves faces many challenges including social, economic and educational disadvantages. Public education in the area lags behind state standards, but local schools are improving, with more than half of the school districts now receiving Academic Watch ratings for the 2000 District Report Cards. Given these circumstances, most entry-level students require remedial courses in two or more academic areas. For those students placed into required remedial courses, success rates at college level courses are among the highest in the state. The regional population is expected to have little growth, with unemployment more than twice the state average. Graduates find most local employment opportunities with low-tech employers, often preferring to stay in the area, even when well-paying jobs in their major are available elsewhere in the state. Some graduates are employed in an adjacent county of West Virginia, and would not be available for verification of employment in Ohio.

Despite the challenges, Rio Grande Community College prepares students from distinctly disadvantaged backgrounds for jobs or further education, where they succeed at levels similar to students from other two and four-year public schools.

FOUR-YEAR UNIVERSITIES AND MEDICAL COLLEGES

BOWLING GREEN STATE UNIVERSITY

Bowling Green State University aspires to be the premier Learning Community in Ohio, and one of the best in the nation. Through the interdependence of teaching, learning, scholarship, and service we will create an academic environment grounded in intellectual discovery and guided by rational discourse and civility. Bowling Green State University serves the diverse and multicultural communities of Ohio, the United States and the world. This Vision is supported by: an extensive portfolio of distinctive undergraduate programs, focused master's and specialist degrees and a select number of nationally recognized doctoral programs; scholarly and creative endeavors of the highest order; academically challenging teaching, fully connected with research and public service; innovative academic planning that focuses on society's changing needs, student outcomes and the appropriate integration of technology; and an educational environment that develops culturally literate, self-assured, technologically sophisticated, productive citizens who are prepared to lead, to inspire and to preserve the great traditions of our democracy. The Core Values to which the University adheres are: respect for one another; cooperation; intellectual and spiritual growth; creative imaginings; and pride in a job well done.

CENTRAL STATE UNIVERSITY

Central State University, as Ohio's only public Historically Black University, academically prepares students with diverse backgrounds and educational needs for leadership and service in an increasingly complex and rapidly changing world. As an open access institution, the University fosters academic excellence through a strong liberal arts foundation and majors in selected fields.

Central State serves many first-generation college students from groups historically underrepresented in higher education. These students often come from families with limited incomes and from under-funded school districts, resulting in greater challenges for them in adjusting to college. These factors may adversely affect traditional success factors, such as first-year retention and six year graduation rates.

CLEVELAND STATE UNIVERSITY

A great city deserves and needs a great public university. Since 1964, Cleveland State University has met the educational needs of its students and responded to the challenges of the Northeast Ohio area.

As a major metropolitan university, Cleveland State provides a comprehensive, high-quality education to students of diverse backgrounds and experiences by creating a supportive and stimulating environment for them, offering continuing education and lifelong learning opportunities, and, most importantly, preparing them to lead productive, responsible and satisfying lives in a global society. Cleveland State University offers 117 undergraduate and graduate programs that include business administration, arts and sciences, engineering, education, law and urban affairs, as well as professional certificate and continuing education programs. Of Cleveland State's 16,300 students, about 85% remain in Northeast Ohio upon graduation. Cleveland State's formal mission is:

“Our mission is to encourage the development of human and humane knowledge in the arts, sciences, humanities and professions through scholarship, creative activity and research while providing an accessible and contemporary education to all individuals. We are here to serve and engage the public and prepare our students to lead productive, responsible and satisfying lives in the region and global society.”

More information is available about Cleveland State University through www.csuohio.edu.

KENT STATE UNIVERSITY

Kent State University's strength is its breadth of opportunity and the variety of education, research and outreach possibilities, through an eight campus network that stretches throughout northeast Ohio.

Kent State is Ohio's second-largest university, with about 35,000 students on its eight campuses. The university's overall excellence is reflected in its designation by the Carnegie Foundation as a Doctoral/Research University – Extensive, a ranking that puts Kent State among the nation's top 90 public universities. Attracting more than $30 million a year in externally funded research, the Kent State contributes to the economy through the development of new products and enterprises. About 20 percent of the students on the Kent Campus are graduate students.

Kent State also has the largest residential campus in northeast Ohio, serving traditional students in a small-town atmosphere. But about half of Kent Campus students are from the urban areas of Cleveland, Akron-Canton and Youngstown. About one-fourth of Kent Campus students attend part-time.

Continued growth in the freshmen class and increases in the quality of that class allowed the Kent Campus to become more selective in admissions. Kent State's open admissions policy in its seven regional campuses, however, provides access to a wide range of traditional and non-traditional students in communities throughout northeast Ohio.

The unique eight-campus network is especially appealing to non-traditional students. Over 12,000 students take advantage of Kent State's Regional Campus programs. Kent State is the only Ohio university with such an extensive network of campuses. This regional access to college-level education is important to Ohio, but the Regional Campuses also directly benefit businesses, governments, schools, and other organizations through workforce training, applied research and technology assistance.

MEDICAL COLLEGE OF OHIO AT TOLEDO (MCOT)

The Mission of the Medical College of Ohio shall be the creation and maintenance of an academic environment that attracts the most highly qualified students and faculty, and fosters the pursuit of excellence in health education, research and service.

The University endeavors to individualize the educational experience. It provides personal and professional guidance and, it offers opportunities for its students to achieve understanding and appreciation not only of their own culture but also of the cultures of others as well. Selected undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs of quality should be offered with the expectation of students achieving a high level of competence and understanding and developing a personal value system. Since the legislation creating Miami University stated that a leading mission of the University was to promote "good education, virtue, religion, and morality," the University has been striving to emphasize the supreme importance of dealing with problems related to values.

Miami is committed to serve the community, state, and nation. It offers access to higher education, including continuing education, for those who can benefit from it, at a reasonable cost, without regard for race, creed, sex, or age. It educates men and women for responsible, informed citizenship, as well as for meaningful employment. It provides both disciplinary and interdisciplinary approaches to the pursuit of knowledge and to the solving of problems. It sponsors a wide range of cultural and educational activities, which have significance beyond the campus and the local community.

NORTHEASTERN OHIO UNIVERSITIES COLLEGE OF MEDICINE

The Northeastern Ohio Universities College of Medicine (NEOUCOM) is committed to graduating qualified physicians oriented to the practice of medicine at the community level, with an emphasis on primary care: family medicine, internal medicine, pediatrics and obstetrics/gynecology. NEOUCOM strives to improve the quality of health care in a 17-county region of northeast Ohio through:

- Assistance to residency programs in associated hospitals;
- Continuing education of physicians and other health professionals;
- Participation of faculty and students in innovative research programs; and
- Consortial education of graduate students in the biomedical, community health and behavioral sciences.

Through a unique consortial partnership with three state universities, 17 teaching hospitals across northeast Ohio and a health department, NEOUCOM provides a combined B.S./M.D. program that attracts some of the most talented future physicians in Ohio and graduates highly competent and compassionate doctors. The majority of our graduates enter primary care fields, and most remain in Ohio to practice in local communities. The College also works to help keep these communities healthy through projects that prevent and eliminate disease and expand health education.

In addition, NEOUCOM's collaborative approach to research unites clinical, basic sciences and population-based research. By focusing research efforts on areas in which the College is particularly strong, NEOUCOM researchers have been able to contribute significantly to the bodies of knowledge within their fields, as well as to discover novel therapies and treatments for disease.

Accredited graduate programs in research and public health are available through NEOUCOM's consortial arrangements. The College offers a Ph.D. program in biomedical sciences in conjunction with the School of Biomedical Sciences at Kent State University. Students interested in earning an M.D./Ph.D. can do so, as well. Additionally, the Northeastern Ohio Masters of Public Health program was initiated in 1998 in cooperation with Kent State University, Cleveland State University, Youngstown State University, and the University of Akron.

Percent of Student Credit Hours
Taught by Appointment Status of Instructor
All Undergraduate Students - Fall 2000 to Fall 2003

These tables presenting information on credit hours taken by first-year students that are taught by various types of faculty must be interpreted with some caution, especially when comparing institutions. In particular, policies on assigning faculty rank differ across institutions, so that similar faculty may have different ranks depending on where they are employed. Also, institutional data practices on assigning the instructor of record vary. Where a regular faculty member supervises graduate students teaching introductory classes, some institutions assign the classes to the supervising faculty member and others assign the classes to the individual graduate assistants.

Percent of Student Credit Hours Taught by Appointment Status of Instructor

First-Year Students - Fall 2000 to Fall 2003

These tables presenting information on credit hours taken by first-year students that are taught by various types of faculty must be interpreted with some caution, especially when comparing institutions. In particular, policies on assigning faculty rank differ across institutions, so that similar faculty may have different ranks depending on where they are employed. Also, institutional data practices on assigning the instructor of record vary. Where a regular faculty member supervises graduate students teaching introductory classes, some institutions assign the classes to the supervising faculty member and others assign the classes to the individual graduate assistants.

NOTES

- 1 Students may be concurrently enrolled at more than one institution, within or across sectors.
- 2 Data come from analysis of financial aid applications (FAFSA) submitted as part of applying for state and/or federal aid.
- 3 Data come from ACT and SAT College Entrance Assessments completed by many high school students while in high school. Such a curriculum would include 4 years of English, and 3 years each of mathematics, science, and social studies. Far more students enter college in Ohio with ACT placement tests than SAT placement tests.
- 4 The AICUO offers the following comment: Student Choice Grant recipients do not represent the universe of undergraduates at Ohio independent colleges and cannot be used to analyze family income and education status in a way comparable to that published above for Ohio's public sector. These grant recipients exclude, among independent-sector undergraduates, those who are not Ohio residents, those who are part-time (less than 12 credit hours per term), and those who started college before 1984 and are ineligible for the grant program. Even 4.3 percent of first-time freshmen who started in fall 1999 began as part-time students. Using only full-time students excludes a large share of nontraditional students, who are likely to have lower income and less prior family educational attainment.
- 5 PSEO: Post secondary enrollments option program
- 6 Campus policies and procedures for determining remediation rates can and do vary by institution.
- 7 Enrollments for independent campuses are Choice Grant recipients enrolled anytime during the academic year. Enrollments for proprietary campuses are Workforce Development Grant recipients enrolled anytime during the academic year. Choice Grants and Workforce Grants are for full-time students, so a student who is enrolled part-time at an independent or proprietary institution would not be included as mobile or concurrent. The following comment is offered by the AICUO: Student Choice Grant recipients do not represent the universe of full-time, first-time freshmen at Ohio independent colleges and cannot be tracked thoroughly enough to generate mobility and concurrent enrollment rates comparable to that published above for Ohio's public sector. These grant recipients exclude, among independent-sector undergraduates, those who are not Ohio residents, those who are part-time (less than 12 credit hours per term), and those who started college before 1984 and are ineligible for the grant program.
- 8 Rio Grande is a Community College at the lower division level and an independent university for upper division students.
- 9 Certain campuses (e.g. Youngstown State University) which offer both an associate degree and a baccalaureate degree may report longer time-to-graduation for baccalaureate degrees if a student begins and completes an associate degree, stops out of enrollment for a number of years and then returns to the same campus to study for the baccalaureate degree. In such cases, the first-year and term of study may be recorded by the campus as the beginning of study for the associate degree, thus artificially inflating the recorded total time-to-degree for the baccalaureate degree.
- 10 The data source for this information does not distinguish between full-time and part-time salaries, therefore salaries $16,000 and above are assumed to be full-time for this report.
- 11 State Support (SSI) includes State Share of Instruction, Access Challenge, Success Challenge and Special Supplements for Central State University and Shawnee State University, but excludes state financial aid.
- 12 These figures represent the probability that at any given point in time a student will be in a class of this size. They do not represent the percent of classes in this size category.
