Each program requires at least 90 quarter hours for completion and includes course work in general education, applied general education and the technical/occupational area.

Review Results: The external review team noted the following strengths during the review: leadership teams that provide comprehensive guidance to the college; the presence of active articulation and transfer agreements with area colleges and universities; a strong student advising program; the use of a "career portfolio system" for all students to demonstrate skills and abilities; a well-conceived conceptual framework that integrates general education, the business core, and technical courses; and the college’s strong reputation in the community that it serves.

The team also noted some areas of non compliance with the Chancellor’s standards and recommended that the institution: improve the credentials of full-time and part-time faculty members in the general education and technical areas to meet the Chancellor’s faculty standards; clarify the use of the career portfolio system for students in the interior design program; clarify the objectives for the risk management and insurance program; and complete a review of the early childhood education curriculum using the National Association for the Education of Young Children Standards for Associate Degree Programs.

The institution responded appropriately to the recommendations of the consultants’ report by demonstrating how the recommendations were accepted and integrated into the proposed programs, or, in the case of recommendations that could only be complied with over time, by presenting a clear plan for the implementation of the recommendations and a timeline for such.

Recommendation to the Chancellor: Davis College meets the Chancellor’s minimum standards for applied associate degree programs.
